

WWW.WALLAWALLA.ORG

FOR RELEASE AT WILL

CONTACT: Justin Yax, DVA Advertising & PR, 541-389-2411, justin@dvaadv.com
Ron Peck, Tourism Walla Walla, 509-525-8799, rpeck@wallawalla.org

WWW.WALLAWALLA.ORG—THE SITE TO SEE BEFORE YOU SEE THE SIGHTS

(WALLA WALLA, Wash.)—Thinking of planning a trip to Walla Walla? Your trip begins at www.wallawalla.org, the ultimate vacation-planning tool for any adventure in southeast Washington's wine country. Whether a trip is in still in the daydream phase or in the final booking stage, wallawalla.org has everything to help plan and achieve the ultimate getaway.

With listings, specials and packages for nearly all Walla Walla activities including wine tasting, dining, arts, outdoor recreation, shopping, and relaxation, wallawalla.org lets you explore the destination and plan your trip from the comfort and convenience of your own home. The web site also features links and information family-friendly fun, weddings and event planning, cultural/historic immersion, and refined entertainment, as well as various types of lodging.

A complete calendar of events allows site-goers to find Walla Walla area happenings, and showcases some of the area's most entertaining events. The Tourism Walla Walla event calendar provides information on current events, festivals and entertainment options, and is updated daily.

-more-

www.wallawalla.org—Page 2

About Tourism Walla Walla

As the voice for all sectors of tourism and hospitality in the Walla Walla Valley, Tourism Walla Walla is committed to being a representative, industry-driven organization. Through cooperation, experience and industry insight, Tourism Walla Walla is dedicated to providing leadership and direction, making tourism and hospitality one of the leading and most viably sustainable industries in the Valley. For more information visit www.wallawalla.org.

#